DIVERSITY IN ADVERTISING

The strength of a newspaper is shown by the diversity of its advertising. Also by its list of subscribers. The latter must be had or space will be of no value to those who use it.

The Advertiser of April 27 carried the invitation, wants and desires of 252 different persons and firms. There is seldom an issue with less than a couple hundred different advertisers.

Why is it? Because advertising carefully and properly handled, pays. That is it.

Mrs. Howard D. Smith

After several years of failing health and a critical condition the past few weeks, Mrs. Mary C. Whitman Smith, wife of Howard D. Smith, passed away at her home, Thursday morning, May 3, at 6:30 o'clock.

She was the daughter of Elhanan and Sally Curtis Whitman, born Feb. 28, 1846 in Woodstock, and was the last surviving member of a large family. She attended the schools of that town before her parents moved to Greenwood. At the age of sixteen, she served as apprentice for a milliner and dressmaker at Bryant's Pond. In 1867 she opened dressmaking rooms over the Whitcomb store in Norway, where she met H. D. Smith, a young clerk in the store.

They were married Sept. 22, 1869, and settled on the Sebastian Smith farm, in Oxford. Five years later, Mr. Smith entered the Norway National Bank as clerk and they changed their residence to the village, where they have since lived. For the past two or three years Mr. and Mrs. Smith have passed winters in the south and Portland, where they have a wide acquaintance.

Mrs. Smith was instrumental in organizing Abigail Whitman Chapter, D. A. R. named in honor of her grandmother. She had been prominent in county organization of the W. C. T. U., a member of Keoka Chapter O. E. S. at Waterford and active in the work of the Norway Congregational Church.

She leaves her husband and five children, Lee M. Smith, Mark P. Smith of Boston, Mrs. Alice May Horne, Fairhaven, Mass., Fred E. Smith, Norway, and Don S. Smith of Hartford, Ct. Nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren also survive her.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Eugene B. Lane, 285 School St., Berlin, N. H., subscribes for the Advertiser, although he knows only two persons in Norway. Somehow it fills the bill and he likes it. An article in the issue of March 16, with the caption "Lumber from the Old Squire's Farm" attracted his attention. Commenting on the article, he says, "I was interested at once as I have read nearly every one of Dr. Stephens' stories since the early 70's and hope to for many years to come."

Even wheelbarrow sides take wings and fly away. Philip Saleeby laid a pair down by the sidewalk near Clark's Drug Store for a short side trip. He returned within two minutes and presto! the goods were missing. The property belongs to the Congregational Church and if left at the church or at Mr. Swett's, everybody will be happy.

D. H. Fifield of West Paris, recently called to renew his subsrciption. He has taken the paper for many years. He retired from the grain and feed business at West Paris some eight years ago. He sold to the J. B. Ham Co. who continue what he established.

George Hazen, Esq., of Oxford, called recently. He will be 80 come next July. He drove the car—a Nash 6—and did it as gracefully as a much younger man. He and John P. Swasey of Canton are the two oldest members of the Oxford Bar. George goes fishing occasionally and lives in a quiet way with the folks who lease his house.

A story is told about John Grover of Otisfield, who had an accident happen ot his store teeth. The gnawers were removed for cleaning and dipped into a can of water, as he supposed. After a good scrubbing and replaced between the jaws, the owner discovered the fluid was not water, but kerosene. John drooled mineral oil and strong English for several days.

Some snow up in Maine yet. On May 2 a drift in front of H. L. Burnham's camp by the lakeside measured 2 1-2 ft. deep.

NORWAY NURSING SERVICE

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Nursing Service was held at 7:30, Tuesday evening, May 1st, B. G. McIntire presiding. The committee voted favorably upon the purchase of filing equipment for the nurse's office. There was discussion of the plan to request parents of beginning school children for September, 1928, to have a health examination made during May. This will allow time for corrections of physical defects. The nurse presented for approval a letter to parents which invites them to bring the child to the nurse's office for weighing and measuring.

The report of the work for April follows:

During April, 58 visits were made for bedside nursing—two of these in response to night calls on obstetrical cases. There were nine visits for instruction and thirteen miscellaneous visits. One patient was taken twice to the doctor, one to the oculist, and one was driven to Lewiston to the hospital. There were thirty-three calls at the office. Of the rural schools, only Norway Lake was visited. Visits to schools number 32. Four of these were the occasion of toothbrush drill in the primary grades. The children are familiar with the rhyme:

"Twenty white horses upon a red hill;
Now we scrub,
Now we rub,
Now we clean with a will."

Teachers and nurse are satisfied that the children learned something more of keeping teeth clean and are stimulated to more faithful daily care.

Eleven classroom inspections were done. Much time was given individual inspection for the purpose of finding children who meet the six point standard. Among the seven classes completed there were found 54 who qualify. Quite a large number of others may yet qualify if they succeed as they hope in correcting certain defects. The teachers and the nurse together decide whether the child meets the standard. One disqualified by being 20 per cent over average weight and 2 pounds more, said, "Oh, I can take that off before the May Day program." A frequent question is "Am I a Six-Point Child?"

The Medical Advisory Board met the secretary of the committee and the nurse on April 4. The Dental Advisory Board was asked to meet the Nursing Service Committee, April 5. The committees appointed by the Woman's Club and W. C. T. U. have met to discuss May Day program plans. They have assisted in inviting merchants to make a Child Health Week exhibit. A May Day poster has been allotted for each window.

AN AFTERNOON AT THE BOG

As there was no work at the factory I picked up an early dinner and started for the bog at the outlet of Lake Pennesseewassee in quest of the author of the strange notes, apparently made by some water-fowl, and which have puzzled several nature-loving people in Norway for the past ten years.

I took the road leading to Crockett's Ridge, and after passing Ned Shepard's bungalow, struck into the field beyond and followed the fence leading down to the bog.

The day was rather cold for April, breezy and partly cloudy. Light ripples stirred the water, which at that particular portion of the bog was here and there grown up to cat-tail flag, sweet gale, leather-leaf and other bog loving shrubs. A bittern was 'pumping' among the cattails. An osprey was beating back and forth over the bog in search of fish. A male and female golden-eye were swimming near the opposite shore.

I went clear down to the shore line which was well provided with small trees, and placing my back against a tree, prepared myself to remain as motionless as a heron for the entire afternoon, if need be.

I hadn't ten minutes to wait before the performance began. I directed my field glass across the bog in a line from whence the sound came, but could see no bird. A few moments later I could hear the sound farther down the bog, then still farther. After some time he came back past me and went up the bog. I saw that the bird seemed to have a regular beat so I waited patiently and sure enough he started back on his return down stream. When he started to sing nearly opposite me, I thought I saw a movement behind a bunch of bushes. I kept my eyes fastened on that particular spot and presently a coot swam out in full view, tail jauntily cocked up, and with a backward and forward movement of head and neck while swimming. I had been fully an hour in catching my first glimpse of the bird. After discovering his beat, I saw him several times, but it was fully three hours later before I really caught him in the act of singing where I could obtain a full view of him in open water.

Several times I attemped a whistled imitation, and poor as it was, the bird responded for a time and in one instance, swam directly toward me, as if curious. The call is often long and rather uncanny, and could doubtless be heard for a mile under favorable conditions.

The opening notes appear somewhat cuckoo-like at a distance, but when one is near the singer some of them have a timbre suggestive of those of a turkey. The song may be represented thus: Oke, oke, oke, oke, oke, oke, oke, yel-oke, yel-oke, wah, yel-oke, yel-oke, wah, oke-yoke, wah, oke-yoke, wah, yoke, wah, yoke, wah, etc.

The opening notes are rapid, as fast as a person could say them, on rising scale, and slightly accelerated, suggesting the opening notes of the blackbilled cuckoo before a rain. The double syllables are given almost as one with a barely perceptable separation. While rapid, they are slightly slower than the opening notes. The syllable wah, wherever it occurs, is higher, slightly prolonged, and musical in quality. The song slows down somewhat toward the close, and is always made up of the different phrases given above, but varies as to number and order.

Besides the regular song the bird utters a single note at times, difficult to describe, but entirely unlike any of those given in the regular song.

I had always expected to find the pied-billed grebe, commonly known as the dipper-duck or devil-diver, to be the author of this commotion and was somewhat taken back to find that the notes came from that crazy bird, the coot.

This is not the butter-billed coot, which in reality isn't a coot at all but a species of duck known as the American scoter. The bird whose notes are given above is the American coot proper, locally known as the mud-hen in some sections.

Local names are often troublesome, thus the name "mud-hen" must not be confounded with the meadow-hen, which is the stake-driver or American bittern. The bird is also known in some sections as crow-duck and blue peter. Its dark slate-color and white bill, in connection with the habits given above, render it easy to determine.—W. L. B.

William S. Twitchell died in South Paris, April 24, after an illness of some weeks. His age was 70 years.

He was the son of the late Cyrus W. and Lydia (Cummings) Twitchell. He leaves a widow, who has for some time been at the Augusta State Hospital, and a son, Donald, six years of age, who is now with Mr. and Mrs. George Twitchell. A daughter, Lydia Cecil, died a few weeks ago and was buried in the same grave with her father.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Theodore M. Twitchell of Redding; three half-brothers, George G. Twitchell, Benjamin B. and Cyrus W., and four half-sisters, Mrs. Flora York, Mrs. Addie Hill, Mrs. Rose Judkins and Mrs. Lena Hall, all of South Paris, except Mrs. Judkins who lives in Norway.

The funeral was held on Thursday, attended by Rev. E. B. Tetley. Burial in Fairview Cemetery.

Walker's Annual Field Day

The 22d annual field day demonstration and sale was held Wednesday at the business place of A. W. Walker & Son in which the Burnham & Morrill Company cooperated.

People gathered early, many driving from a considerable distance over muddy roads for this one great agricultural event. Salesmen and demonstrators were on hand to show the good points of a large variety of standard farming implements and machinery carried in stock by A. W. Walker & Son. Most of the demonstration took place in the field near the buildings, but a department inside the large warehouse was devoted to the performance of gasoline engines, cream separators and other mechanical devices.

Dinner was served in the Burnham & Morrill corn factory soon after 12 with Mrs. Bessie Goldsmith in charge of feeding 400 hungry men, women and children. She was assisted by a corps of efficient helpers, comprising Mrs. Alta Wise, Mrs. Eva Howard, Mrs. Sadie Edwards, Mrs. Ida Skinner, Mrs. Minnie Edwards, Mrs. Flora York, Mrs. Emma Twitchell, Miss Ruth Bolster, Ben Twitchell and Bert Foster.

Food was served camp style on long tables covered with white paper. At every place was a fiber plate, spoon and tin dipper with a corn box for a seat. There was an abundance of baked beans, brown bread, soda crackers, butter, cheese, coffee and real milk. This spread required 120 cans each of Burnham & Morrill's beans and brown bread; 30 pounds of cheese; 20 quarts of milk; 10 pounds of butter and 40 pounds of sugar. Some lay-out for a free dinner.

An interesting and instructive program was carried out with George L. Skinner, manager of the A. W. Walker Co., as master of ceremonies. After a brief address of welcome, he presented Leslie E. McIntire of East Waterford, who complimented the firm on efficient service. He emphasized building up dairy herds to the highest efficiency if there is to be any profit in the business.

Sam Connor of the Lewiston Journal entertained with personal experiences as a newspaper man. The humorous side delighted the crowd.

Mrs. Earl LaBay has recovered from her recent illness.

Frank Goldsmith, superintendent of the Burnham & Morrill factory at South Paris, explained how the price offered the farmer for corn is based largely on fixed manufacturing costs and other items. With the company doing the trucking from field to factory, at the lowest cost, the farmer gains. He recommended that plan for the coming season.

Other speakers were Frank Robie, representing the New England Cold Storage Co.; Ed. Swift, a veteran and head of the selling force, and Edward H. Brown, agricultural instructor at Norway High School.

Percy Walker of North Newry was present. He greeted friends but took no part in the exercises.

The Norway and South Paris Agricultural classes inspected the exhibits, enjoyed the dinner and remarks and gathered material for a story as part of class room work.

Mrs. Sarah Starbird aged 84 years, who resides with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Starbird is recovering from a broken hip, and able to sit up some. Her health is good and complete recovery is expected.

Bryant, Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Tetley and Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Staples.

W. B. Lord has been drawn from here on the traverse jury to meet at Rumford on May 8. It is seldom that neighbors are drawn together. F. M. Sanborn going from Denmark.

Ralph Libby visited relatives in Portland, Monday night and Tuesday.

Tuesday was a very stormy day, over a foot of heavy snow, badly breaking the telephone wires.

Dana Libby, Bernice Harnden and Vivian Richards spent the week end at the latter's home in Bristol.

Marcia Berry of Bates College was at home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Spencer of Portland were at Henry Lord's, Saturday night and Sunday.

SWEDEN

Summer Home Used by Winter Visitors—Mrs. Smith Injured—Variety of Weather.

R. W. Caverly and wife, Fred Whittier and wife of Lynn, Mass., were down to their summer home in this town, April 19th, and went back Sunday, the 22nd. They got through all right until within a few rods of their house when they dropped into the mud most all over. The road commissioner happened along and helped them out; when they got to the house, they found they had had callers, someone had pulled the screen off, pried the window up, built a fire in the stove, opened some canned beans, made tea, pulled the bedding out of the trunk and made themselves at home. They have owned the house here for over 25 years and this is the first break.

Mrs. Janet Smith tripped and fell in the kitchen at Frank Stone's where she is working, and dislocated her shoulder, Saturday evening. A doctor was called Sunday and put it back in place. At the present writing, she is quite comfortable.

Thel Bennett is gaining, but rather slowly.

This seems to be a queer spring; two big snow storms in April, several thunder showers and then to cap the whole, an earthquake April 18th.

Wendell Plummer, wife and son, Ethelbert, went to Bridgton, Friday, the 27th, and H. R. Andrews came home with them and is visiting with his daughter for a few days.

Albert Flint spent the day at E. S. Plummer's, Sunday, April 29.

Smelting seems to be the order of the day (or I should have said night), next comes suckers, then pickerel, then black flies and mosquitoes. Guess they'll want their felt boots on unless the weather changes soon.

BUCKFIELD—NORTH END

Herbert Smith and son are building a garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Damon, who have spent the winter in Lewiston with their son, Carl, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tucker and daughter spent a few days with his brother, Nelson, and family, in Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Maudant Rowe, Jr., are stopping at their home here for a time.

Eugene Fuller swapped one hog for two with Floyd Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Morse and Shirley called at C. L. Hammond's, Friday.

Mrs. Floyd Stevens is getting on fine after being at the C. M. G. Hospital. She has a young brother there now for the same. Her father cut his foot badly and is laid up so father a sick household.

Mr. Keniston recently sold his Ford car to Bat Berrymont, and there had only a few days slipped away, and Mr. Keniston having listened to so many rumors that the Lewiston market was so awfully over stocked with Fords that every garage owner had their back yards and all of the vacant lots in the suburbs filled to their capacity and they were so desirous in getting clear of a large number of them so as to have the room for—automobiles—that for every Ford they turned they would make the purchaser a present of the second Ford as good measure, also to insure their future patronage. So one fine morning after foreman Keniston was certain the little mill was in good repair, he and his nephew, Mr. Grover, hit the trail for the over stocked Lewiston market, and much to their surprise they found those rumors were not signed by responsible parties, and they visited very nearly every garage in the two cities, and not a second hand (Ford) that contained four good tires and a good set of lungs could they find, till just as they were leaving the city, homeward bound, they stopped at a one horse garage while the owner told them he had not one in stock, but he knew of a friend only a few steps from there that had a good one that he wanted to sell, as he needed money badly, so he stepped across the street with Mr. Keniston and they closed the deal very soon, and Mr. Grover drove the car home that they went with, while Mr. Keniston drove his new purchase into Sumner that evening, and feels well pleased with the deal. Now we can very easily see to what extent some of these rumors are true, for Mr. Keniston had the green-backs right with him to deal for any kind of a car that he got interested in, and not upon the more common terms of a little down and (nothing) each week, the boys said there were a plenty of large cars on these markets that looked to be good trades.

George Forbes, of the birch mill crew, recently bought a Ford coupe of Harlon Redding.

Joseph Leonard, for a long time an employee of the Tebbets Company, is used up for an indefinite period of time, owing to poor health. Mr. Leonard was hauling out squares here at the mill.

Mr. Blanchard, the Wilton cattle dealer, has been through here upon his annual tour, always driving out a few cattle.

George Spaulding has four hundred and fifty chickens at this date, April 27th.

With the first week of April the thermometer going to eighty above in the shade, and upon Saturday night, Sunday and Monday night, April 21, 22 and 23, there were eleven inches of the beautiful snow upon the surface here, making transportation possible with the tin can, heavy draft horses hitched to lumber sleds, and light horse and carriage, though the sled predominated, while Saturday, the 28th, snow fell to the depth of four inches, with that evening turning to rain continuing through the night and a part of Sunday, shall we call this our Indian winter?

Tuesday evening, the 24th, Mr. Keniston, Mr. and Mrs. Grover, Harry Norton and Albert Hamilton spent the evening at Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bartlett's.

Bat Berrymont has sold his Ford to James Haines.

Bill Urquhart moved to Canton Point, Wednesday, the 25th, Bill left us a dollar bill for a six months subscription to the Advertiser before his departure.

Jerry Bartlett and sisters, Grace and Gertrude, went up to Olphy Varney's, Sunday, the 29th, with Jerry's car.

In reply to D. Cromett Clark, for his highly valued words of praise handed your correspondent through the Advertiser of last week's issue, will say it makes me feel as if I had just received an increase in salary, to have a man so well up in the world as Mr. Clark, notice the news items of our old back neighborhood, here among the mountains. And more yet for him to appreciate them to such an extent as to make his mind known through the columns of this valuable weekly. Now I want to tell Mr. Clark that I cannot make my typewriter express my sincere happiness I enjoyed in reading his few lines in where he was interested in two sentences of my items, in your paper, and I will endeavor to tell him all about the dog in the near future.

Friends are sympathizing with Olphy Varney, over the mistake that he made when he traded that valuable canine to Cal Russell, the dog having so recently leaped into publicity through the press.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grover and Harry Norton went to Buckfield for a drive in Mr. Grover's Ford roadster, Sunday.

Guy May, who has been working in the woods in Gloucester all winter for the Dupont Company, finished there and came home Saturday evening.

Kind readers, I feel that I am using too much space through the Advertiser and that it would be wise for me to lay back for a time and let the other fellow start something.

Niagara
"Kolo" Dusting Materials
The New Dusts you can see Stick give more permanent protection from each application

These "Kolo" Dusting Materials have sticking properties not found in any other dusting material. They may be applied with equal effect to either wet or dry foliage, and after once "set," will stick for weeks throughout rain and wind. This dust is a visible sticker. You can see it plainly without lens or microscope. Experiments demonstrate that this sticker dust retains a larger percentage of sulphur on the leaf surface for a longer period than is the case of "Lime Sulphur" Solution, or most any other liquid spraying material.

The Skunk's Philosophy

F. E. Mitchell

Woodchuck, Rabbit and Skunk met in the woodland, at a bubbling spring of sweet water. After quenching their thirst, they lay down to enjoy the relaxation and rest that is so grateful to healthy creatures after vigorous exercise in the open air.

Rabbit spoke thus: "Friend Skunk," said he, "were I equipped with a weapon like Nature has given you, I would never run from bloodthirsty human ruffians, as I did this morning. Instead, I would lie in wait for them, and when they least expected it, I would give them a volley that would teach them what it means to be preyed upon."

Skunk made no reply.

After a silence, Woodchuck asked, "What would you expect to gain by such an act, Friend Rabbit? Nature gave you a coat of such color that, if you are circumspect, you can easily conceal yourself from the hunters. You can also run with great swiftness and, if you are careful instead of reckless and defiant, you can escape harm even when your presence has been discovered. Why be peevish? Why envy Friend Skunk his equipment?"

"Well," replied Rabbit, "I am sick and tired of running away from humans who call it sport to hunt and annoy, to kill if possible, those who have done them no harm, who would like to be friendly with them. I would certainly fix 'em if I had a gas-bag like Friend Skunk carries."

Then Skunk spoke. "Friend Rabbit," said he, "if you would pause to think for a moment, you would realize the purport of what you have said. You have really suggested that I, an honorable and fair-minded Skunk, should act as meanly as humans do. They seek to destroy; not only our happiness, but that of their own kind. I do not seek to emulate human conduct. My line of reasoning and my ambition does not run in the same channel as theirs.

"Humans are so ignorant of the value of life, so blind to the possibilities it offers, that they hate and destroy each other when there is nothing to be gained by so doing. They kill each other individually, because of envy, greed and jealousy, and then collectively kill the individual, by virtue of laws which they enact.

"What of mercy can be expected of a race that habitually mistreats and oppresses its own kind? That kill millions in wars which they incite that a few munition makers may live in idle luxury? That enact laws which benefit the indolent, burden those who are industrious, tax the resources of the many for the gain of the selfish and cunning few?

"Can we hope that a people who will strap a weak and half-demented woman in a chair and kill her, thus reducing society to the level of individual wickedness, will permit us to safely wear our coats, which they covet? Do you imagine that we could gain anything by starting an offensive against these organized and powerful enemies?

"I have no such delusions. I am of a different mind. I find much that is delightful in life. I would wish to see all creatures enjoy themselves, to seek happiness in whatever same way they select; to have them free from hostile interference and from petty dictation.

"To pick a quarrel, or to retaliate with meanness when others are hateful and unfair, is degrading. I shall continue to be watchful, to avoid contact with wicked humans whenever possible, and I do not intend to use my smelly gas except when necessary to preserve my liberty. I do not choose to adopt the methods you have suggested."

TAKE NOT FALSE OATH

It is astonishing how lightly the majority of people look upon he sacredness jority of people look upon the scredness of an oath, in view of the fact that the statute fixes a very heavy penalty for the offense of swearing to a false statement, the maximum being ten years in state's prison.

Take for instance the oath which is required on the application for a license to operate a motor vehicle on the highways of this state. There are seventeen questions which the applicant must answer: he must take oath before a justice of the peace or a notary that the answers to all these questions are true and unless all of these seventeen questions are answered the license will not be granted.

One of the most important of these questions is No. 12, on the application card, which reads: "Are you familiar with the road and motor vehicle laws?" Now as a matter of fact the motor vehicle law was revised and codified in 1921.

Theer were approximately 100 sections to this law and it has been variously amended by each succeeding legislature. Yet the ordinary man will answer this question off hand without giving the matter any thought whatsoever, in spite of the fact that it is a safe guess that not one in a thousand, outside those charged with the enforcement of the law, are familiar with its various provisions.

The speed law is one of the most important of these provisions, yet if you go out on the street and inquire of a fellow who has driven a motor vehicle for years what this speed law is, you will receive but a very vague answer. Of course Maine has always had a speed law, both for the compact portion of cities and towns and for the open country.

The speed law in the open country is rather difficult for the ordinary driver to understand and in some cases it takes a lawyer to interpret it. There is no question as to the limit, however. That is specific and reads: "No motor vehicle shall be operated upon any way of this state at a rate of speed greater than thirty-five miles an hour under any conditions or circumstances."

Furthermore, if such vehicle is operated at a speed in excess of twenty-five miles, it is prime facie evidence that the operator is driving faster than is reasonable, safe and proper; and between twenty-five miles and thirty-five, the burden of proof is upon the operator to show that such is not the case.

There are various other questions equally as important, concerning which the motor vehicle public has less knowledge than it does of this speed law.

The probability is that the majority of motorists do not even know that the secretary of state can revoke the operator's license or annul the registration certificate, if he finds that any of these questions are answered incorrectly.

In view of these facts, it would appear that there is a fertile field for an educational campaign among the owners and drivers of automobiles.—Bridgton News.

Joseph Rust's Journal of 1803

Arranged and Edited by C. F. Whitman

Capt. Henry Rust of Salem, Mass., a Revolutionary soldier, and a sea captain, purchased, in February 1787, a tract comprising some 6,000 acres in what is now the southeastern part of Norway, and he proceeded at once to develop it. Indeed there were already several settlers located upon it and without doubt by his solicitation. Capt. Rust sent two of his eldest sons, Henry Jr., born in September, 17[illegible], and Joseph, born Jan. 1, 1764, to become residents of the village which had begun to grow up around the mills, built in 1789 on the outlet of the Great Pond.

Henry's dwelling house was built on the lot now occupied by the Noyes Drug Store. His barn was where the Wilson Walker residence now stands and his cow yard—the Dr. B. F. Bradbury place—the big elm tree was set out, when a small shoot, in one corner of it.

Joseph built his residence in what is now the corner of Main and Pleasant Sts. After the father's death in 1812, John, another son, born in 1762, settled in Norway and received the mills at the head of the village from his father's estate. An addition had been made to Joseph's residence which John and family occupied. It may here be said that all three of these brothers had been sea captains.

Joseph and Henry Jr. did not become permanent residents here 'till about 1801.

The Universalist Society was organized in March, 1799, and among the fifteen members of the Association were Gen. Levi Hubbard of Paris Hill, afterwards a Member of Congress, and Joseph Rust of Norway, who was the first clerk of the society. Joseph and his brother, Henry, were among the incorporators of the church association in 1805. The church was built in 1802. John, when he came here, joined the Baptists and became the chief pillar of that society in Norway and was the means of its acquiring a lot and place of worship now owned by A. P. Bassett.

Some of the members of the Norway Universalist Society had heard Rev. John Murray at Gloucester, Mass., the first preacher of that faith in America and were greatly charmed with the doctrine of universal salvation. Among these were Joseph Rust, Samuel Ames and the Bennett Brothers, Anthony and Nathaniel.

Rev. Thomas Barnes' preaching had also been heard at Gloucester by Norway and Paris people and he was invited to come to Maine and establish a circuit and he did so settling in Poland. He died there in 1816, but his remains were afterwards, through the efforts of Hon. Ezra Beal, brought here and buried in Pine Grove cemetery.

Joseph Rust was town clerk in 1803 and when the county of Oxford was formed in 1805, he was chosen its first Register of Deeds for the Eastern District, which office he held to his death in 1815. He was a magistrate and tried civil and criminal cases.

Rules for Getting the Most from Advertising

A big retailer, who has spent the greater part of his advertising appropriation in good newspaper copy gives the following ten points which have helped him to become a succesful business man through advertising:

1. I advertise regularly. Every issue of the paper takes my story to its readers.

2. I make every ad look like mine. Years ago I adopted a distinctive style, and have stuck to it. I use plenty of white space; my ads are never hard to read.

3. I put into newspaper advertising a definite proportion of my gross sales. I fix this at the beginning of the year. My rule is to make it three per cent of the previous year's gross, with more if special conditions justify it.

4. I brighten my ads with frequent illustrations, either humorous or practical. This does not increase the cost, as my local paper has a cut service in which I can always find something to answer my needs.

5. I am careful never to overpromise. When I make claims I back them up with reasons. Then when I really have an unusual bargain, people believe me when I "whoop 'er up" a little.

6. I think advertising all the time. I buy goods that will advertise well. Sometimes I buy goods just for their advertising value.

7. I get good display for my ads by seeing that the copy is in the newspaper office in ample time. I do this by having a definite hour to write the copy.

8. Whenever possible, I carry the nationally advertised goods that are advertised in my own home paper. I feature them. Sometimes they give me a smaller margin than fly-by-night concerns, but I find that I sell faster and make more money in the end, besides pleasing more customers.

9. I always plan my window and counter display to link up with my newspaper advertising. Each helps the other.

10. My salespeople back up advertising. They often help with suggestions for it, and I see to it that they always read it.

Internationalism—what does the word mean?

Some interpret it to mean the doing away with nationalism, patriotism, love for our own people, our customs and our native land, in order to gain a broader outlook upon the affairs of the world.

Is this a true interpretation- Is it not a mistaken viewpoint? Many of our greatest American citizens, who have truly been citizens of the world, were intensely patriotic and loyal, not only to the nation, but to their native state and home community.

Internationalism has its beginning in the home. As the citizen develops he becomes interested in his neighbors and his home community. This interest gradually extends to the state and nation. Then comes the realization that the greatest prosperity and happiness can be attained by the American people only as the bond of friendship between nations is established on a firmer basis, and the barriers of suspicion, jealousy and national selfishness are broken down.

Every loyal American, every true citizen, wishes to see this great nation prosper and fulfill the glorious ideals of the founders of the republic. More and more he is coming to recognize that the interests of America and of the other nations are closely related, that we should shoulder our share of world responsibilities and live up to the golden rule in our dealings with all nations.

Is not this Internationalism in the truest and best sense of the word?

Long. Past Memories

"Geo. H. Collins"—F. W. Sanborn

The minds of those who are "waiting" run in about the same channels. Geo. H. Collins, editor of the Star-Herald of Presque Isle under caption of "Our First Newspaper Client" has this to say:

Mr Granville Gray, who opened offices in the Boone Block, Wednesday, Feb. 1st, and "hung out his shingle", as a legal practioner, told the Star-Herald reporter that his first client put in an appearance the same day.

We do not know the name of this first client, nor just what item of legal help he was in quest of, but we are led to wonder if this first client, his name and the circumstances connected with his coming, made as much of an impression on the mind of Mr. Gray as the first "client" we had when we went into the newspaper business now nearly forty years ago.

We had just taken over what was known as the "North-star," and all we had to cheer us in the enterprise at the outset was such tangible assets as a Washington hand press, a few cases of dilapidated type, a small list of delinquent subscribers, and a pilot for the almost foundered craft in the person of the late Henry A. Dunn. We had been in the proud possession of this hopeful outfit but a day or so when, in walking along Main Street, we met, exactly in front of what is now Geo. Och's dry goods store, Uncle David DeWitt. Uncle David stopped, shook hands with us in a most friendly way, reached down into his trousers pocket, and fished out one of those old-fashioned silver "cartwheel" dollars, and told us to put his name on the list for a year's subscription.

What a man needs and needs very badly in such an uncertain and hazardous venture as we had started in, is some tangible evidence of public approval and good will, and if all the self-respecting and God fearing elements of the community had taken counsel together to consider our case, no better representative could have been chosen to extend to us the right hand of fellowship than Uncle David. If he had met us with a grouch and a scowl of dissapproval, instead of a smile of encouragement, sealed with that "cart-wheel" for a year's subscription it might have sunk our frail bark. As it is Uncle David gave us a big boost in the right direction. Uncle David went to his reward many years age, we sweetened his passing on with the best obituary we were able to frame and grind out on the Washington hand press, and as for ourself—well, nearly forty years later, we are still on the job, and the Star-Herald, fertilized by this old-fashioned silver dollar many years ago, is still in existence, and not only existing, but flourishing fairly well, and doing we honestly believe worthwhile work for the community in which it is planted.

It is harder to tell what we did not have in the days when we met our first newspaper client on the street, than what we did have. Among the things we did have was plenty of snow in the winter. That winter of 1887, Arthur Gould—then plain "Arthur Gould"—not Senator Gould—went in lumbering, and jokingly claimed in the spring that there had been 123 feet of snow. Gould had it exaggerated ninety feet. According to "Parson Keep" of Ashland, who among other things he did kept a diary, there was a total snowfall of thirty-three feet."

The above brings to mind our first customer in Norway. It was in early June 1882. We were located exactly where we are to-day but occupied only one-fourth the building. We were waiting for the first customer and were a bit in emminent fear it might be a woman. We were then superstitious and haven't as yet fully got over it.

A large framed man with black curly hair and flowing beard, came in to speak to our foreman, S. Drake, and before leaving he handed in a $1.25 and become our first customer and first subscriber. It was Henry B. Cotton, Center Conway, N. H. He continued to take the paper until he died a few years ago. The next customer was a South Paris female milliner who wanted hand bills announcing a marked down sale in her line of goods. Had she come first what would have been the result? Our superstition would have lead us to think we would make a failure in our newspaper venture. As it was our mind was greatly relieved.

Some months later Major D. R. Hastings of Fryeburg called. He was the democratic war horse and leading lawyer of western Oxford County and he gave us good advice saying: "Mr. Sanborn, if you will assiduously avoid party politics for the years to come as you have the past three months, you will make a success of your paper." It was good advice and was accepted and we have endeavored to live up to all these years but have consistently voted the democratic ticket.

SPRING FEVER

Along in the spring a feeling of unrest comes over the indoor people. It is partly a tired kind of languor from the approach of warmer weather, but still more it may be a discontent with one's daily task or surroundings. The great outdoors looks so enticing.

About now one feels like breaking all the customary habits, quitting the job at the bench or in the home, and roaming far away. It is a kind of inheritance from the less fixed habits of the old days, in the time when people worked what hours they chose.

Fortunately our people's working time is not as long as it was a few years ago, and they get considerable time off in which they can roam around the country and enjoy sports and pastimes.

We may think we should like a life of idle roaming, but we should get tired of it quickly enough if we tried it. So our spring fever should not be permitted to dominate our whole mood.

PUT FRILLS ON YOUR FOODS

A few frills makes any dish taste better—particularly a dessert. It makes it look better as well. The best of it is that a frill is inexpensive. It may be a sprig of mint in a fruit cup or drink; a slice of lemon on the rim of a teacup, or served with fish; or some attractive little combination of foods served in a cucumber rind, an orange skin or a hollowed-out, rosy apple.

Here is one idea. You can easily think of many others, but you'll never know how much attractiveness adds to your dishes until you try it.

When making orangeade, orange cake or any other orange dish, take the pulp from each half rind and save the latter for a salad. Insert a curling lettuce leaf in the orange rind; add a little chopped apple and small orange segments mixed; thrust a half banana (cut crosswise) into the center, and top with a strawberry or a red cherry. Just before serving, pour a little fruit dressing (lemon and orange juice and sugar will do) over the oranges and apples, and drop three or four tiny mounds of whipped cream (sweetened and flavored if you wish) at the base of the banana.

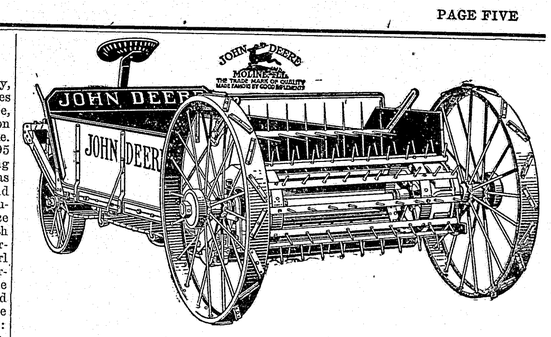

This whole gives the idea of a candle set in an orange rind candlestick—and it is very delicious indeed.

"Just think of it!" exclaimed Flora. "A few words mumbled over your head and you're married."

"Yes," agreed Dora, the cynical, "And a few words mumbled in your sleep and you're divorced."

A colored school teacher is credited with the following: "The word pants an uncommon noun, because pants am singular at the top and plural at the bottom."

A girl isn't necessarily timid because she jumps at a conclusion.

THIS IS THE JOHN DEERE SPREADER

It is the only spreader having the beater on the axle. Main axle serves as shaft for the beater and other important parts.

HIGH WHEELS AND LOW BOX. Easier on both the horses and the man. The spreader can be easily loaded from either side or from behind.

THE BEATER IS MOUNTED ON ROLLER BEARINGS. The beater drive gears are enclosed and run in a bath of oil. No clutches, no chains and no belts.

THE JOHN DEERE SPREADER IS VERY SIMPLE. Only about half the parts that are necessary on the ordinary spreader.

THE LOAD MOVES ON ROLLERS.

LAKE OPEN AND FISHING ON

Ice went out of Lake Pennesseewassee April 27, at 1 p. m., according to the official announcement of Capt. Mel Sampson, who was the judge in at least two guessing contests.

At Stone's, Scott Kilburn won the fly rod. His guess was April 27, 12 o'clock noon. Francis Noble secured the reel, having set the date as April 27, 3 p. m.

Down to Ashton's, correct dates were picked by Dick Sargent and Philip Hunt. Dick set the time at 2:15 p. m., and being the nearest, won a fly rod. Young Hunt guessed the time as 2:30 p. m. and was given a nice reel.

Guesses at both places varied from April 1 to the middle of May.

This year the opening of the big pond is eleven days behind last season and some five days over the average for a period of ten years.

Fishermen are busy there but no big hauls have been reported.

"THE PINES" CHANGES OWNERS

W. H. Callaghan of Lewiston has bought "the Pines" of W. F. Smith and his wife will operate it the coming season. Mrs. Callaghan is a daughter of Cy Witham, who lives near by.

W. F. Smith is living in Ridlonville at the present time.

Prof. Pepp Had His Troubles

Senior Play Presented at Opera House Before a Large Audience

The three-act comedy "Professor Pepp" given by the Seniors of Norway High School at the Opera House, Thursday evening, was a snappy portrayal of college life, with a program of pranks and capers handed to the over wrought professor.

Prof. Peterkin Pepp was played by Cark Hutchins. He lived in mortal fear of Russian bomb merchants, which fact gave the students an advantage in procuring whatever favors they went after.

C B. Buttonbuster, a regular he-man with plenty of "It" was acted by Vincent Ashton. Although burdened with years he joined the freshmen while seeking a young wife among the fair co-eds. By a twist of fate he caught the spinster whom he had twenty years before left waiting at the church.

Howard Green, otherwise Buttonbuster, son of the spry old boy, was impersonated by Kenneth Goodwin. The father and son collided while making love to Betty Gardner, played by Miss Evelyn Saleeby, and there was some melo-dramatic action with a cross word puzzle to determine who is who and what is which. Betty won the son but it was some race with the old man finishing as runner-up.

Aunt Minerva Boulder, a spinster with a wrecked romance, was played by Miss Grace McAllister. All men looked alike and she had them tagged as gay deceivers due for the place where brimstone boils. With her it was a case of marry or shoot and the elder Buttonbuster chose the former.

Petunia Muggins, a domestic in the Professor's home and "peculiar", was the character impersonated by Melverda Robbins. She was strictly rustic and romantic, a joke for the college boys but a "steady" for Constable Batty.

Sim Batty, newly appointed constable out to enforce law and order, was the character presented by Osmond Towne. Batty was a typical rube decorated with a shiny badge, and a billy. His business was to strangle anything "agin the law". In spite of his high office, the students made him the target for many jokes which added plenty of comedy during their by-play.

The college boys appearing mostly in groups were, Roland Annis, Paul Brown, Albert Clark and Norman Goodwin. Girls impersonating the fair co-eds were the Misses Dorothy Smith, Mary Favor, Ona Yates and Constance Smith.

Olga Stopski, of the faculty and a Russian, played by Miss Doris Ledger aided the girls in the phony Nihilist scheme that all but wrecked the nervous system of the high strung professor.

Between the acts Miss Ruth Flanders, violinist, with Miss Ada Reed at the piano played popular selections and Miss Alberta Hosmer gave a reading.

The play was under the direction of Harold A. Anderson with Ned Burnell on the makeups. Net proceeds will go to defray graduation expenses.

NORWAY—NOBLE'S CORNER

Mrs. Wilbur Downing and little daughters, Janet and Marylin, spent several days last week with relatives at the village.

It takes more than snow or rain, or even the deepest mud, to discourage Maude Bennett. The weather we have been having is sure something to keep us guessing what month it is. Probably more snow has fallen the last ten days than all winter put together previous to that. With an earthquake and thunder shower for good measure, keeps us all mixed up on the season, but as Maude comes home, rain or shine, even Saturday, we can sort of keep track of the weeks by that. When roads are too bad for anyone to be out with teams or autos to give her a lift, she simply smiles and walks it.

Chester Austin is working for Wayland Upton for a few weks.

Carl Upton spent the week end here at the Corner. He is working for Mrs. Scott Merrill at present, Pruning trees in the "Cole Orchard."

It is understood that Perley Russell has leased his place here to A. L. Wyman and family, who are expected to move on to it in the near future. The Wymans are no strangers as they used to live on the place before going to Norway Centre, and have also owned and lived on, two other farms near here, for years. Must seem like coming back home to them.

Allan Fraser planted his peas, April 27th.

Chester Verrill has been here for poultry recently; found pretty poor autoing.

Herbert Holt bought seventy-five baby chicks of Howard Heath this week.

Wilbur Downing expects to move to the place owned by Nate Merrill at Swiff's Corner this week. Was to rent the Perley Russell place, but as he has leased it for a time, are likely to have to go out of the neighborhood for a suitable rent.

Dr. I. P. Symonds seems to be having quite a busy time with professional work. He was called to Sumner recently, and also other calls to Albany. Manages some by auto and uses horses for others.

BETHEL—GROVER HILL

The travelling is unusually bad this spring.

Ina Potter, the grammar school teacher at Locke's Mills, was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mundt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Abbott of West Bethel are to occupy W. H. Hutchinson's farm as soon as the travelling is suitable to move there.

Frank Abbott has purchased a horse.

Alfred Peaslee is caring for "Pat" H. A. Lyon's horse, since Mr. Abbott returned him.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Robert Lamont Thurston

Robert Lamont Thurston, aged 76 years, 2 months, passed away at his home Sunday evening April 22 after an illness of four days, though he had been in poor health for several years. Mr. Thurston was born in Peru, the son of True and Rachel Welch Thurston and the family moved to Rumford nearly sixty years ago. He leaves a widow who was Hannah O'Connor of Chicago, two brothers Granville and Addison of Rumford, two sisters, Mrs. May Goggin of Bridgton and Mrs. Dell Burgess of Rumford, and several nephews and nieces. Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday forenoon April 25. Rev. Gardner Wills officiating, and Penacook Lodge, I. O. O. F. of which the deceased was a member, assisted in the services. Buriel was in the Rumford Center cemetery.

There was a large attendance at Grange Meeting at Rumford Center, Saturday, April 21, when the teachers and some of the pupils in Stephens High School gave a fine program of music, readings, drills, and a short play. This was the last day meeting of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Channing Frost attended the funeral of Mrs Frost's mother, Mrs. Lucy A. Fulsom, aged 88 years, in Gorham, N. H. Saturday, April 21. Their son, Clark Frost, and family of Lisbon were also present and were week end guest of the Frost family at Haramela Farm.

Samuel Thurston of Farmington Falls was in town several days last week and attended the funeral of his uncle, Lamont Thurston.

DON'T BELIEVE IN HOOVER

A recent article from D. Cromett Clark, of Winter Hill, Mass., brings a reply from F. E. Mitchell of Alton, N. H. to Mr. Clark as follows:

"I am delighted to know that my remarks, expressed in a personal letter to Mr. F. W. Sanborn, should have given you amusement. You will have occasion to be greatly amused if Herbert Hoover should be elected President of these United States; that is, if you yourself are more interested in this country than you are in Siam and other distant places.

My citation of Governor Smith as a 100 per cent American is as I see it. It is my belief that he is only interested in America; that as he sees it our problems are so many that he would have no time to spend upon European and Asiatic problems.

It may be that I am alone in my estimate of Mr. Hoover. If so, I'll stand by my opinion just the same. I have never questioned his ability. As a promiscuous spender of public money he is a star of the first magnitude. I look upon him in public affairs as I do upon a man in domestic affairs who dictates to the women of his house about their habits and expenditures and lavishes his affection upon strange women.

I was engaged in business in New York City while this country was "Hooverized," when housewives were forced to buy rye flour, which they did not want, in order to get a small portion of white flour, which they did want; when restaurants served about one-third as much sugar as was our custom to receive—all to serve the interests of England and France. If those countries do not love him it is not his fault.

Much space has been given to Herbert Hoover's ethical speeches and about his wonderful accomplishments. Results, not theories, are what we use to measure a man's ability. A small book, a pamphlet, would be sufficient to record what he had done. A row of books would be required to tell what he has said and promised to do. "Flood relief" is a fair sample. What has been done in the Mississippi Valley by Hoover that could not have been done by any one of ten thousand men—had they had the opportunity and backing.

Hoover proved himself to be a good servant for Wilson; but he has shown himself to be neither a Republican, a Democrat or anything else until convinced that the path was smooth and safe for him to travel. He was for the League of Nations, now he is opposed; he was a Democrat, now he is a Republican; but he is Herbert Hoover ALL the time.

Smith has shown himself to be an able executive. He has DONE things. Hoover might be a good chief executive. I hope he will be—if elected. My great great grandfather chased the English from Bunker Hill to Yorktown. I love 'em just as he did."

OTISFIELD

Fred Morey has lately had his house wired for electric lights.

James Buzzell and friend are staying at the Buzzell home here.

FRYEBURG CENTER AND MENOTOMY

FORMER BETHEL WOMAN A SUICIDE

Mrs. Gertrude Gordon, daughter of the late Aaron and Maria H. Crockett of Bethel, was found dead on the floor of the kitchenette in her apartment at 16 Newhall street, Lynn, Mass., when her husband, Edwin M. Gordon, came home for supper. Two cocks in the gas stove were open, the door and window tightly shut.

Despite the statement of the medical examiner that death was caused by suicide, members of the family insisted the gas flow was accidental when Mrs Gordon was seized with a paralytic shock and fell against the stove. For some weeks she had been under the care of a specialist for treatment of creeping paralysis.

Besides her husband she is survived by a brother, Charles H. Crockett of Bethel; two sisters, Mrs. Adaline A. Lear of South Carolina, and Mrs. Carrie H. Dennis of Westboro, Mass., and two sons, Leroy and Arthur, both of Lynn.

GREATNESS THROUGH SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:33-37; 10:35-45.

GOLDEN TEXT—For even the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Doing as Jesus Did.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Way to Be Great.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Be Truly Great.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Standard of Greatness.

Jesus with His disciples was on His way to Capernaum for the last time. He was soon to leave for Jerusalem where He was to die on the cruel cross for the sins of the world. He sought retirement in order to make clearer to the disciples the meaning of the cross. They were yet unable to understand Him. It was a most pitiable sight to behold the Son of God facing humiliation and death or man's salvation and even the disciples failing to understand the meaning of His suffering.

I. The Disciples Disputing as to Who Should Be the Greatest (Mark 9:33-37).

1. Jesus' searching question (v. 33). His omniscience enabled Him to discern their secret thoughts. The fact that the disciples were wrangling about official position while Jesus was facing humiliation and death shows how completely He was alone in the world.

2. The silent disciples (v. 34). The revelation of the selfishness of their hearts made them ashamed in His presence. The realization that the eye of the omniscient Lord is over us is the sure and only cure for selfish wrangling among Christians.

3. The stinging rebuke (vv. 35-37).

(1) "If any man desire to be first the same shall be last of all and servant of all." True greatness expresses itself in being willing to take the last and least place and to be a servant of others.

(2) His teaching illustrated (vv. 36, 37). This He did by an acted parable of placing a little child in their midst. A little child is a symbol of dependance and ignorance. By word and example He showed that true greatness is expressed in willingness to aid the weak, instruct the ignorant, and serve the needy.

II. The Ambitious Request of James and John (Mark 10:35-45).

1. What it was (vv. 35-37). It was for the positions of pre-eminence in the kingdom. Christ had told them of the awful agony of the cross and also of the glory which should follow. While their request reveals pride and selfish ambition, yet faith in their Lord and a right desire were not wholly lacking. It was not entirely for their personal glory that they made this request, but because of their personal desire to be with their Lord.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 38-45).

(1) To James and John (vv. 38-40).

a. Their misconception rebuked, "Ye know not what ye ask."

b. Positions of glory in Christ's kingdom are earned, not obtained through favor or arbitrary assignment. The way to honor is through suffering. The cup which they were to drink was all that was embraced in the agony of the cross. Christ conceded that the positions which they craved were obtainable, but in a different way from what they thought. The way to places of glory in Christ's kingdom is through lowly, self-forgetful service and suffering.

(2) To the ten disciples (vv. 41-45).

a. Their displeasure (v. 41). The ten disciples were displeased with the request of James and John. Their displeasure was because they were not free from the same selfish ambition; their action was not prompted by righteous indignation.

b. True greatness declared (vv. 42-45). To minister to others is greater than to be ministered unto (v. 43). Among the Gentile nations, greatness was conceded to those who exercised authority over others. This is the world's conception today. Among the followers of Christ a different standard prevails. The standard of Christ's kingdom is to forget self in devoted service to others, even to the giving of one's life. The supreme example to be followed by all is Jesus Christ Himself. His whole life was spent in going about doing good, and on the cross of Calvary He made the supreme sacrifice in providing a ransom for many.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF MAINE

UNITED STATES v. 231.61 acres of land situated in Oxford County, Maine, Marshall R. Hastings, et al. } No. 113 At Law

To the Honorable, the Judges of the United States District Court for Maine.

The petition of the United States brought by Frederick R. Dyer, United States Attorney for said District of Maine acting under the instructions of the Attorney General and at the request of the Secretary of Agriculture, respectfully shows as follows:

I.

That, by an Act of Congress approved August 1, 1888, (25 Stat. L. 357), it is provided:

That in every case in which the Secretary of the Treasury, or any other officer of the Government has been, or hereafter shall be, authorized to procure real estate for the erection of a public building or for other public uses, he shall be, and hereby is, authorized to acquire the same for the United States by condemnation, under judicial process, whenever in his opinion it is necessary or advantageous to the Government to do so. And the United States Circuit or District Courts of the district wherein such real estate is located shall have jurisdiction of proceedings for such condemnation.

That, by an Act of Congress approved March 1, 1911 (36 Stat. L. 961), among other things it is provided as follows:

Sec. 4. That a commission, to be known as the National Forest Reservation Commission, consisting of the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of Agriculture, and two members of the Senate, to be selected by the President of the Senate, and two members of the House of Representatives, to be selected by the Speaker, is hereby created and authorized to consider and pass upon such lands as may be recommended for purchase as provided in Section Six of this Act, and to fix the price or prices at which such lands may be purchased, and no purchases shall be made of any lands until such lands have been duly approved for purchase by said commission.

Sec. 6. That the Secretary of Agriculture is hereby authorized and directed to examine, locate, and recommend for purchase such lands as in his judgment may be necessary to the regulation of the flow of navigable streams, and to report to the National Forest Reservation Commission the results of such examinations: Provided, That before any lands are purchased by the National Forest Reservation Commission said lands shall be examined by the Geological Survey and a report made to the Secretary of Agriculture, showing that the control of such lands will promote or protect the navigation of streams on whose watersheds they lie.

Sec. 7. That the Secretary of Agriculture is hereby authorized to purchase, in the name of the United States, such lands as have been approved for purchase by the National Forest Reservation Commission at the price or prices fixed by said commission: Provided, That no deed or other instrument of conveyance shall be accepted or approved by the Secretary of Agriculture under this Act until the legislature of the State in which the land lies shall have consented to the acquisition of such lands by the United States for the purpose of preserving the navigability of navigable streams.

Sec. 8. That the Secretary of Agriculture may do all things necessary to secure the safe title in the United States to the lands to be acquired under this Act, but no payment shall be made for any such lands until the title shall be satisfactory to the Attorney General and shall be vested in the United States.

III.

That the National Forest Reservation Commission provided for in Section 4 of said Act has been duly appointed and organized in compliance therewith; that the Secretary of Agriculture has examined, located, and recommended for purchase the lands hereinafter described which in his judgment are necessary to the regulation of the flow of navigable streams, and has reported to the said National Forest Reservation Commission the results of his examination; that said lands have been examined by the Geological Survey and a report made by the said Geological Survey to the Secretary of Agriculture, showing that the control of said lands will promote or protect the navigable streams on whose watersheds said lands lie; that said National Forest Reservation Commission has considered, passed upon, fixed a price at which said lands may be purchased, and has approved and authorized the purchase or acquisition of the same by the United States; that the funds necessary for payment for said lands are available when needed; and that said lands are necessary for the purposes of the Act of March 1, 1911.

IV.

That the legislature of the State of Maine, in which state said lands lie, has by Resolve thereof approved March 28, 1903. (Resolves of the State of Maine 1903, Chap. 102, page 41) consented to the acquisition of said lands by the United States for the purposes of establishing a National Forest and for preserving the navigability of navigable streams, and the nature, character and location of the said lands are within the provisions of said Act or Acts.

V.

That in the opinion of the Secretary of Agriculture and said National Forest Reservation Commission it is necessary and advantageous to the Government to acquire title to said lands for the United States by condemnation under judicial process.

VI.

That by an Act of Congress approved March 1, 1911, and subsequent appropriations, money has been set apart and appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 1, 1911, entitled "An Act to enable any State to cooperate with any other States, or with the United States for the protection of the watersheds of navigable streams and to appoint a commission for the acquisition of lands for the purpose of conserving the navigability of navigable rivers," and that the money is now ready for the payment for the lands herein described for the purposes aforesaid.

VII.

That the land which it is necessary for the United States to acquire by condemnation in this proceeding for the purposes herein set out consists of 231.61 acres, more or less, situated in Oxford County, Maine, known as the Hastings clearing, containing according to survey 231.61 acres. The above tract of land is more particularly described by metes and bounds upon a map or plat in "Exhibit A" hereto attached and made a part of this petition, with leave to refer to same as often as may be necessary.

VIII.

That on or about the 22nd day of January, 1927, your petitioner, pursuant to law, through the Secretary of Agriculture, entered into an agreement of purchase with Marshall R. Hastings and wife, Norma E. Hastings, of Bethel, Oxford County, Maine, and Ella D. Hastings, unmarried, and Florence O. Hastings, unmarried, of Auburn, Androscoggin County, Maine, the apparent and presumptive owners of 231.61 acres of land in Oxford County, to purchase the same for $6.00 per acre, and according to survey the said boundary contains 231.61 acres fully described in "Exhibit A" hereto attached.

The vendors covenanted in said agreement that the title to said land was clear, free and unencumbered and that they would convey to the United States a safe title thereto satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States as provided in Section 8 of the Act of March 1, 1911, (36 Stat. 961).

And the said agreement further provides:

It is further mutually understood and agreed that if the vendors do not within 1 year from the date of the execution of this agreement show in themselves a safe title satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States to all the hereinbefore described land, or do not when called upon by the proper officer or agent of the United States promptly convey said title or titles to the United States, then in that event the portion or portions of the land the vendors' title to which has not been proved satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States, or which the vendors have failed to properly convey to the United States as stipulated and provided herein, shall be acquired by the institution of condemnation proceedings in which event the evidence to be presented by both parties to this agreement before the appraisers in condemnation proceedings in estimation of the value of said lands shall be on the average value of $6.00 per acre for the Marshall R. Hastings, et al., tract of land.

IX.

That the United States, for the purpose of purchasing said land pursuant to the above mentioned agreement, has caused the same to be surveyed and has had an abstract of the title made, and after an examination thereof the title has been found not to be satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States, but on the contrary appears to be defective, doubtful and incomplete, and that there are or may be unknown, non-resident and persons under disability who may have some claim or demand on the said land or some interest or estate therein, which should be divested out of them and be vested in your petitioner in order to give your petitioner a perfect title to said land; and there may be other persons who are residents who appear to have, or to own some interest or estate or claim in and to said land, but such persons are so numerous and their estates, interests or claims, if any are so vague, uncertain and doubtful, that it is impracticable, to the extent of being impossible, for your petitioner to obtain from all, or from any considerable number of such persons, sufficient deeds of conveyance for their rights, or apparent estates, interests, or claims in said land, and there may be certain other persons described herein as unknown who may be now dead, and that the names and residences of the heirs, devisees, alienees, executors or administrators of such persons are unknown and cannot be ascertained after due diligence, and that the said unknown heirs, devisees, alienees, executors or administrators have, or claim to have an interest in the fee or otherwise, in the land herein described but that the nature and extent of their several interests are unknown, wherefore it is not possible for petitioner to acquire said lands by direct purchase, for which reasons and for such other reason as may be hereinafter stated it is necessary, in order that petitioner may acquire a safe title to said land, that said land be condemned for the uses and purposes of petitioner as aforesaid in a court of competent jurisdiction.

X.

Marshall R. Hastings and wife, Norma E. Hastings, of Bethel, Maine, Ella D. Hastings, unmarried, of Auburn, Maine, and Florence O. McCann who intermarried with Bert D. McCann, of Auburn, Maine, claim to be the owners in fee of all that tract of land described in "Exhibit A" hereto attached.

The records of Oxford County disclose that the following named parties may have some right, title or interest in the lands described in "Exhibit A," which should be divested out of them and vested in your petitioner, to give your petitioner a perfect title to said land.

The records of Oxford County, Maine, disclose that Samuel A. Bradley, on November 21, 1826, conveyed to Ellis B. Usher the lands described in "Exhibit A", but the records fail to disclose that Ellis B. Usher, or his heirs at law, have extinguished all their right, title or interest in said land, for which reason the following persons are made parties:

Sarah E. R. Bacon, deceased, heirs at law, whose names and residences are unknown.

On November 24, 1836, Alanson Mellen, Treasurer of Oxford County, Maine, conveyed to Walter L. Bryant 9.149½ acres of land in Bathelder's Grant, and the title arising therefrom passed by successive conveyances to James E. Hutchins, of Lovell, Maine, but the records fail to show a conveyance from the said James E. Hutchins, or his heirs at law, for which reason the following persons are made parties:

James E. Hutchins, deceased, heirs at law, whose names and residences are unknown.

The records of Oxford County disclose that on July 13, 1859, David R. Hastings conveyed to David Hammons the undivided one-half interest in the lands described in "Exhibit A", and the title arising thereunder was devised to Martha Hammons, but the records fail to disclose a conveyance from the said Martha Hammons, for which reason the following persons are made parties:

Wilson Hammons, residence unknown.

Betty Hammons, unmarried, Seattle, Washington.

Charlie Hammons of Phillips, Maine.

Fred Hammons, Seattle, Washington.

Marjorie Hammons, C/o Frank Winter, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

West Hammons, California, or C/o Lillian Wakefield, 46 Dupont Avenue, South Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The records of Oxford County disclose that David R. Hastings was the owner of and held certain mortgages on the lands described in "Exhibit A" hereto attached, but the records fail to show an extinguishment of his interests therein, for which reason the following persons are made parties:

Edward E. Hastings, Fryeburg, Maine.
Alice O. Hastings, Fryeburg, Maine.
Mary J. Hastings, Fryeburg, Maine.

Your petitioner charges that the following named parties may at some time or other have had some right, title or interest in the lands described in "Exhibit A" which have not been extinguished, for which reason they are made parties:

E. S. Coe, deceased, heirs at law, whose names and residences are unknown.

Ezekiel W. Coffin, or his heirs at law, whose names and residences are unknown.

Samuel Emery, deceased, heirs at law, whose names and residences are unknown.

Eglina Winter, wife of Frank Winter, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

The State Assessors, Augusta, Maine, and the Treasurer of the State of Maine, Augusta, Maine, are hereby made parties to this proceeding, that they may furnish to the Court a statement of all the taxes and assessments against the said land which are unpaid, and any and all other persons who may have any right, title or interest in the lands herein described are hereby made parties to this proceeding, that they may by proper pleadings set up their interest therein.

WHEREFORE, upon consideration of the premises set forth, your petitioner prays:

(1) For a judgment against the property described, condemning the same and each and every interest and estate therein and the entire and unincumbered fee thereof, to the sole use and benefit of the United States, upon payment into the registry of the court of a just compensation therefor.

(2) That due notice of the filing of this petition may be given to the said persons, corporations and to all other persons, corporations, or associations having or claiming to have any interest in the aforesaid land, or any part thereof, or any right therein and after such notices have been given in such manner as this Honorable Court shall order, and due return thereon made, at such time as the Court may deem proper, a jury in this Court having been impaneled and sworn for that purpose may make, ascertain and by their verdict return to this court after this Honorable Court shall have given to every such person, corporation or association due opportunity to be heard, a faithful and impartial appraisement and valuation of said land and of all rights and interests therein, and of all lawful damages sustained by the owners thereof, and all other persons interested therein by reason of the condemnation thereof to the uses of the United States; and that the said jury by its verdict faithfully, impartially and truly apportion said value and damages so determined as aforesaid for such land, to and among all such persons, corporations and associations as have lawful rights or interest in such land, according to their respective rights or interests determined by said jury as aforesaid, and that such verdict so made and found may be accepted and recorded by this Honorable Court, upon payment by the United States of America into this Court of the said amount for the use and subject to the order of such persons, corporations or associations as are found by this Honorable Court to be entitled thereto, and that this Honorable Court do order and decree that the fee of the said land and all and every right, title and interest in and to the same shall thereupon be vested in the United States of America, and that the United States of America shall acquire a continuous, absolute and unqualified fee in said land and enjoy said land for its public use forever.

(3) That in cases where it may seem to be in the interests of justice and of more effective notice to cause additional notice or service to be made, such service or notice shall be in said order directed.

(4) That in all cases where it is found that any taxes are or are supposed to be due or unpaid, or assessment made but not yet due, a separate notice to that effect may be in said order directed to be given to the proper tax collector, to the end that such officer so notified, may make known to the Court in writing the character and amount of said taxes, or assessments, and that the Court may give proper direction for satisfying the same and discharging the lien thereof.

(5) That any and all orders, proceedings and judgments that may be needed or appropriate to speed the cause or secure due process of law, and which may be legal and appropriate, be made from time to time, to the end that, upon due ascertainment of the value of said property, or of the several interests or estates therein, or liens thereon, and upon the payment of said values into Court, the title of said property and of every such interest or estate therein may be divested out of any and all other persons and vested in the United States freed from and disencumbered of any and all liens and other claims thereon, and with full right to such writs of execution, assistance or possession, and of all and any writs and process that may be legal and appropriate for giving full effect to such judgment.

(6) For any and all other orders, judgments or decrees, whether the same be herein specifically prayed for or not, that may be legal and appropriate in the premises, and especially that it be ordered and adjudged by the Court that all persons, whether named herein or not, who may have or claim to have interests in said property in conflict with or adverse to the title or interests of any other persons, have leave to file appropriate pleadings to make known such claim and to peruse the fund so paid into Court and have all such matters adjudicated in legal and timely manner between the respondents, but without further concern to the United States except to pay into Court the ascertained value as awarded and be vested with the title to the property aforesaid.

7. That such order be made by the Court which will protect the rights of any defendants herein named who are now in the Military Service of Petitioner.

FREDERICK R. DYER,
United States Attorney.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

AGREEMENT

FOR THE PURCHASE OF LANDS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE WEEKS FORESTRY LAW, IN THE WHITE MOUNTAIN AREA

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 22nd day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven by and between Marshall R. Hastings and wife, Norma E. Hastings, of Bethel, Oxford County, Maine, and Ella D. Hastings, unmarried and Florence O. Hastings, unmarried, of Auburn, Androscoggin Co., Maine, hereinafter styled the vendors, for themselves, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns and the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA by the SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, duly authorized thereunto by the Act of Congress approved March 1, 1911 (36 Stat. 961); and amendments thereto.

WITNESSETH:

1. The vendor, in consideration of the promises and covenants of the Secretary of Agriculture, for and in behalf of the United States of America, hereinafter contained, agrees to sell to the United States, for the price and upon the terms and conditions herein set forth, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments, together with all the rights, easements, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, owned by it situated and lying in Oxford County, Maine, known as Hastings clearing, containing 231 acres, more or less, and more particularly described as follows:

An area entirely surrounded by land of the United States, Batchelder's Grant, and being the same as Exception No. 1 in a tract formerly conveyed to the United States by Hastings Brothers.

2. The vendors further covenant and agree that at the date of this instrument the title to the said land is clear, free, and unencumbered except as hereinafter noted; that the vendors have full right, power and authority to convey to the United States the fee simple title and will do or suffer no act whereby such title may be diminished or encumbered; and further, that during the life of this instrument all necessary precautions will be taken to protect the property from damage by fire, trespass or other causes.

3. The vendors covenant and agree within two months from the date of execution of this agreement, to furnish an abstract or abstracts and other evidence of title, tracing the title from its original source, which abstract or abstracts shall be prepared and certified by an abstractor or attorney, of good reputation in the community for skill and integrity in this character of work, and shall later extend said abstract or abstracts to include any instruments subsequently recorded in connection with the title and also to record conveyances made in pursuance of this instrument: Provided, That, if the vendors fail to furnish abstract or abstracts, and other evidence of title required, within two months from the date of the execution of this instrument, then the United States may secure such abstract or abstracts and evidence of title at the expense of the vendors and deduct the cost of procuring same from the purchase price.

4. The vendors will promptly procure and have recorded at their own expense, all assurances of title, affidavits, and other papers which they may be advised by the proper Government officials or agents are necessary and proper to vest in the United States title or titles, as provided for herein.

5. The vendors will, at their own expense, execute and deliver, upon demand of the proper officers and agents of the United States, and without payment or the tender of the purchase price, a good and sufficient deed of warranty conveying to the United States a safe title as provided for herein, to the said lands of such character as to be satisfactory to the Attorney General, as provided in Section 8 of the Act of March 1, 1911 (36 Stat. 961).

6. The vendors further agree that in all cases of known dispute or overlaps in the boundary lines of these lands, they will at their own expense, cause all such disputes or overlaps in the boundary lines to be definitely settled and located by agreement with adjoining land owners, or by legal survey or procession.

7. In consideration whereof the said Secretary for and in behalf of the United States of America, covenants and agrees that he will purchase said lands at the price of Six Dollars ($6.00) per acre, the acreage to be ascertained by survey, according to the horizontal measurements used by the United States in the survey of public lands.

8. The said Secretary, in the same behalf, further covenants and agrees that, after the execution, delivery and recordation of the said deed and the signing of the usual Government voucher or vouchers therefor, and after the Attorney General of the United States shall have approved the title thus vested in the United States, he will cause to be paid to the vendors the purchase price by the United States Treasury warrant or disbursing officer's check.

9. It is further mutually understood and agreed that, if the vendors do not, within one year from the date of the execution of this agreement, show in themselves a safe title, satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States, to all the hereinbefore described lands, or do not, when called upon by the proper officer or agent of the United States, promptly convey said title or titles to the United States, as provided for herein, then and in that event the portion or portions of the lands, the vendors' title to which is not satisfactory to the Attorney General of the United States or which the vendors have failed to convey to the United States, as stipulated and provided herein, shall be acquired by the institution of condemnation proceedings, in which event the evidence to be presented by both parties to this agreement before the appraisers or assessors in condemnation proceedings in estimation of value of said lands, shall be on the basis of an average value of Six Dollars ($6.00) per acre, being the same price as stipulated in the case of purchase.

10. It is further mutually agreed that no member of or delegate to Congress, or resident commissioner, after his election or appointment and either before or after he has qualified and during his continuance in office, shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or agreement, or to any benefit to rise thereupon. Nothing, however, herein contained shall be construed to extend to any incorporated company, where such contract or agreement is made for the general benefit of such incorporation or company (Section 3741, Revised Statutes, and Sections 114, 116, Act of March 4, 1909).

11. That this contract shall not be assigned in whole or in part, and that no convict labor shall be employed in carrying out the terms of this agreement (Executive Order May 18, 1905).

WITNESS the hands and seals of the vendors on the day first above written, and the seal of the Department of Agriculture and the signature of the Secretary of Agriculture this 10th day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven.

Oxford County Under Quarantine for the Test of Cattle

Effort to be Made to Eradicate Complete Bovine Tuberculosis from the County.

The Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Division of Animal Industry of the Maine Department of Agriculture are co-operating for the eradication of Bovine Tuberculosis in Maine, and the work in Oxford County has progressed to that point where it seems feasible and desirable to make this county a disease-free area.

Herbert M. Tucker, Chief of the Division of Animal Industry, Maine Department of Agriculture, acting under authority conferred upon him by Chapter 24 of the Public Laws of 1925, has declared the Oxford County to be under quarantine for the purpose of a complete examination and test of all cattle, such quarantine to be effective on and after April 23, 1928.

On and after April 23, 1928, no cattle of any kind, except beef animals and veals for immediate slaughter, shall be brought into Oxford County unless they have passed a tuberculin test applied by a veterinary approved by the Division of Animal Industry of the Maine Department of Agriculture within one year, or are held in strict quarantine until such test is made at the expense of the owner, unless such cattle come from a Modified Accredited Area.

All of the counties in the State have been covered in this manner and have been declared Modified Accredited Areas by the Federal Bureau with the exception of Aroostock, Oxford, Cumberland and York. Testing in Cumberland County is being done at the present time and just as soon as each veterinary completes his assignment in that county, he will be assigned to a territory in Oxford County. We shall also employ the accredited veterinaries in Oxford County that are able to help in this work, namely, Dr. C. M. Merrill of South Paris and Dr. C. F. Davis of Rumford.

In order to be accepted by the Federal Bureau as a Modified Accredited Area a complete test of all the cattle in the county must be made and less than one-half of one per cent. disease found. All herds in which disease is found will be followed up and retested until they test clean. The State of Maine has just cause to be proud of this work because Maine is the only New England State that has even one whole county a Modified Accredited Area.

The friends of Gordon Wolfe were shocked to hear of his death from pneumonia. He leaves a wife and four children, also his mother, Mrs. Alice Wolfe, who is very ill in Washington, D. C., where she has been spending the winter.

A letter from Miss Katherine Baird tells the sad news of the sudden death of her brother, Daniel Baird. Mr. Baird, with his daughter, Mrs. Howard Wilson, and granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, have been frequent visitors in Waterford. The sympathies of all go out to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Lillian Morse and Margaret returned to Waterford, Tuesday, after a winter spent in Portland. Mrs. Morse's son, Edmund Douglass, came with them. Edmund has been in Augusta, Ga., for the winter. He has spent a pleasant winter and likes his work, but seems glad to get back to Maine.

The roads were slowly recovering from the effects of the heavy snow storm of last week, but another snow storm this week end reduced the roads to a "slush pudding" again.

This village rattled and shook considerably from the earthquake on Wednesday evening. We would not care to live where earthquakes are frequent and severe. A slight shock is quite enough.

The Reading Club held its last meeting for the season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan surprised the members by inviting them to the dining room after the meeting, where she served delicious ice cream, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Fillebrown returned on Thursday evening from her visit to Lawrence and Ayer, Mass. Charles and Barbara were "chief cooks" during their mother's absence, and got on splendidly.

Eight Bear Mt. Grangers braved the bad roads and the storm and accepted the invitation to visit Norway Grange, on Saturday, April 28th, and felt well repaid for going. "Education Day" was observed and the program was very interesting. The third and fourth degrees were worked on a large class in a very fine manner, after which came the dinner, which is such an important part of all day grange meetings. In the afternoon, the children furnished quite a part of the program and every number was splendidly done and the exhibition of hand work of the pupils in the school was much admired. B. E. Packard, deputy commissioner of Education, gave a fine address and there were short speeches by Mr. Harriman, former State lecturer, the principal of the high school, and others. "Mellie" Dunham gave us some stirring music which set everyone's feet tapping. The Grangers who were not able to attend, missed a great treat.

Several members of Keoka Chapter O. E. S., attended a meeting of the newly formed Chapter at Bridgton.

Frank Morgan is grafting the orchard of Harry Haynes, to McIntosh apples.
